

THE DREIDEL GAME INSTRUCTION SHEET

Hanukkah celebrates Jewish perseverance in the face of persecution by the Greeks. In many ways, the story of Hanukkah parallels the experience of refugees around the world.

Dreidel is a traditional Hanukkah game where players spin a four-sided top with a different Hebrew character on each side:

NUN

GIMEL

HEY

SHIN

When these letters are combined they form an acronym for Nes Gadol Haya Sham, meaning, "A great miracle has happened there." This refers to the Hanukkah miracle where a lamp with one night's oil burned for eight nights. In a traditional game of dreidel, each letter indicates the amount of money, or gelt, you put in or take away from the pot during the game.

Our dreidel game is a little different.

RULES

Spin the dreidel. With each spin, the dreidel lands with a side facing up that has one of four letters: nun, gimel, hey, or shin.

Pick a card from the deck that matches the letter on the dreidel.

Each card will feature a fact on the refugee crisis and how you can help. Read your card aloud to the group and start a discussion.

4

Then, follow the rules for the letter you spun:

Nun is for nothing. You lose a turn.

Hey is for half. You get half the coins in the middle.

Take turns spinning the dreidel until all of the cards have been read.

Gir You

Gimel means great. You get all the coins in the middle!

Shin means "put one in." Add one of your coins into the middle.

There over 60 million displaced people worldwide. That is more than four times the number of Jews across the globe.

One in every 122 people on the planet has been forced to flee his/her home or country due to violence or persecution.

UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency, provides shelter, food, water, medical care and other life-saving assistance to refugees around the world who were forced to flee.

Did you know there is an observance called World Refugee Day? It is a global celebration to get people engaged in helping refugees. What kind of traditions would you create for World Refugee Day?

During the eight days of Hanukkah, more than 340,000 new people will be forced to flee their homes.

More than half of the refugees around the world are children. 38% are children 11 years old and younger. What do you think kids can do to help refugees?

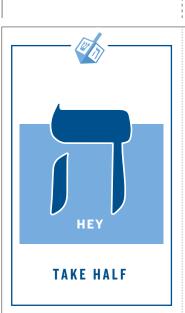

More than half of all Jews live in Israel or the United States. Similarly, more than half of all refugees worldwide come from just three countries: Syria, Afghanistan and Somalia.

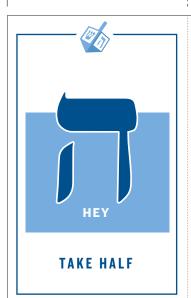

Only half of all elementary school-aged refugee children attend school.

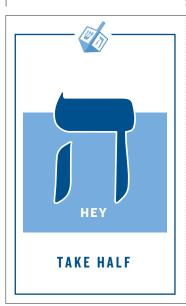

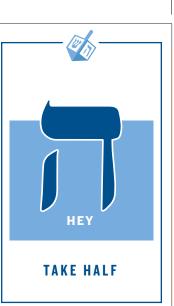

There are more than 19.5 million refugees around the world. This is more than three times the number of Jews in the United States.

Hanukkah is about spreading light and warmth. As it gets colder, the UN Refugee Agency's winterization efforts bring light and warmth to those living in refugee camps.

Refugees come from countries all over the world. We all hear about Syrian refugees, but there are also people fleeing from Central America, Ukraine, Africa and Asia every day.

In 2015, more than 800,000 people from Syria, Afghanistan, Iraq, Eritrea and other countries, have crossed the Mediterranean and Aegean seas to find refuge in Europe.

UNHCR offers three long-term solutions for refugees: going back to their home country once it is safe; settling permanently in the country to which they fled; or resettling in a third country when it is impossible to go home or remain in the host country.

The recent civil war in Ukraine has forced more than 1.5 million people to flee their homes.

More than 7,500 Jews, who once lived in the area now controlled by the separatists, are among them.

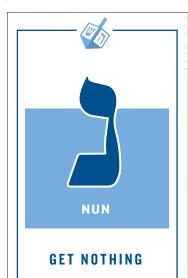

Just like the Maccabees in the Hanukkah story, who overcame overwhelming odds to save their lives and their religious beliefs, refugees today risk everything for a chance of safety and security for their family. What else do Jews have in common with refugees?

42,500 new people are forced to flee every day. That's more than the entire Jewish population of Miami.

The UN Refugee Agency was formed by the United Nations General Assembly in 1950 to help World War II refugees find new homes.

A refugee is someone who is forced to flee due to war, conflict or persecution and cross a border into a new country to find safety.

An internally displaced person is someone who is forced to flee to a different place within his or her home country due to war, conflict or persecution.

If you were forced to flee your home, what one item would you take with you?

Just like a lot of refugees, the Maccabees and Jews in the Hanukkah story were targeted because of who they were as people. How can we stand up for people who are being persecuted because of who they are?
